

CURRICULUM VITAE
FERMIN LÓPEZ UNZU
OPERATIONS DIRECTOR

Fermín López Unzu is Forestry engineer by the Polytechnic University of Madrid (1984) and is Master in hydrological resources by the Imperial College from London University in 1985. He obtained his PHd on mathematical models applied to flood simulations in 1989, and was also granted a Masters in Business Management and Administration from the Business Institute in 1997.

He holds individual membership to several national and International hydrological societies such as BHS, IAHS, EGS, AWRA, IWRA and, to IDA, AEDYR and the Technological Water Platform representing Acuamed. He has published several works on torrential hydrology, mathematical modelling, hydrological infrastructures economic management and infrastructure network operations.

He has developed his career in Spanish engineering companies where he has held several technical and Management positions. He joined Acuamed in 2006 as Engineering Deputy Director and currently holds de position of Operations Director